WANAMAKER'S

Do You Really Know the Store?

PLEASE do not think of it as merely a place of sale—a last chance as a place to get something you need.

Think of it—know it—as the first-chance place to see more of what all lands have produced for personal use and home adornment—more than any other store in America has shown at any time. We speak of the store as a unit—and so it is, though existing in two cities, and the better for the longer reach this consolidation gives.

It is a fashion show, and more.

Yesterday's showing of Oriental Goods was a revelation of the store's grasp on this line of business—we've no patience with "departments," with mere counters for this, and that the other.

Have you seen the

Queer, Quaint Things From the Orient

The first-floor display continues—the charm of it being that one can pick up whatever is appealing at a clear saving of a fourth, third or half less than the lowest regular prices.

Any port in a storm.

Men's Rain Coats

Any sort of a mackintosh if one buys

in haste to avoid wetting.

We saw a rather high-price garment from which the sleeves had melted and dropped. Just because it hung in a warm closet that developed the swindle.

If a mackintosh is properly made it does not fall apart, but is among the most durable of garments.

You don't know much about them—buy on faith, as a rule. Let us offer certainty for uncertainty—for we guarantee all the rain coats we sell to be thoroughly rain-proof and durably made. Send one back that fails—time will tell, and we'll listen and be liberal.

Rain Coats, $4.50 each long, $3.

A hundred at $5 that have necessarily sold at $6.50 till now.

The finest we have is $22.50.

Men's Goods—Ninth street side.

Servants breaking engagements will be dismissed from office and torn all claims to see paid.

Brooklyn Office, 2 Boni 4th, corner Fulton.

Women's Handkerchiefs

"Seconds," they're called—which means that little imperfections of weave, too many rough threads, dropped stitch in the embroidery or the hemstitching is a bit awry.

They sort them very closely in Belfast—because it is not profitable to pay duty on goods and have them rejected.

It's all simple enough—and the best way out of it, so far as the manufacturers are concerned.

To you it means a chance to buy handkerchiefs—

worth 25¢ to $1 each at 12½¢

We've less than two thousand.

broadway.

Men's and Boys' Clothing

Purchased for this season, they must be sold before the season grows too old. Active preparations are now making here for the spring trade. There's no room here for these stocks—they've outgrown their welcome. The new prices should make them welcome to you. And while noting these savings please remember that Wanamaker clothing and prices have received wide endorsement.

FOR MEN—

$12—About 200 suits of stylish cheviots and neat medium-color worsteds. All $15 to $20 kinds.

$5—Trousers of pure worsted, medium and dark colors. A fair $50 value—by some clothiers considered reasonable at $3.

FOR BOYS—

$3.50—Double-breasted jacket suits for boys 9 to 16 years; they were low at $5.

65c—300 all-wool knee trousers; $1 kind.

Other exceptionally good values in knee at 75c.
